

Illustration: Shoshannah Greene and Jess Stanley | Art direction: Estella Lum

Support saves lives

Support is critical to our journey in life. Everyone needs support in their own way and in their own time. We might reach out, or we might not. Support can be a helping hand, a cup of tea, or a kind word. It can be a passing moment or a commitment every day. Having support changes how we move through the world and how connected and safe we might feel. Support saves lives.

Need help?

In collaboration with PEEP

Have questions? Need help?

We're here for you.

Available to First Nations (status and non-status), Inuit, and Métis:

Alcohol & drug information and referral service

Education and prevention resources, support groups, and counselling and treatment services.

1-800-663-1441 | Lower Mainland: (604) 660-9382

HealthLink BC

Call 2-1-1 for reliable non-emergency health information and advice in BC.

Wellness programs and harm reduction resources

Opioid treatment
1-833-804-8111

BC Mental Health and Substance Use Services

Crisis line
310-6789

KUU-US (Indigenous) 24/7 crisis lines

Toll free: 1-800-588-8717

Youth line: 250-723-2040

Adult and elder line: 250-723-4050

Suicide crisis helpline: Call 9-8-8

Mental health line: Call 3-1-0

Kids Help Phone: 1-800-668-6868

Text: 686868

Available to all First Nations living in BC:

First Nations Health Authority

Indigenous virtual doctor of the day

1-855-344-3800

FNHA-approved
treatment centres

Application to
FNHA-approved
treatment centres

Available to all Métis living in BC:

Métis Nation BC

Mental health and harm reduction

24/7 crisis line

1-833-Metis-BC (1-833-638-4722)

