

Illustration: Shoshannah Greene and Jess Stanley | Art direction: Estella Lum

We are all in this together

Everything is connected — our histories, families, stories, and ways of being. We live in relation with one another and with the lands, waters, and creatures around us. Substance use connects us all too. We stand in community to support, care, and protect each other. We are strong and we are all in this together.

Need help?

Have questions? Need help?

We're here for you.

Available to First Nations (status and non-status), Inuit, and Métis:

United Way alcohol & drug information and referral service

Education and prevention resources, support groups, and counselling and treatment services.

1-800-663-1441 | Lower Mainland: (604) 660-9382

HealthLink BC

Call or text 2-1-1 for reliable non-emergency health information and advice in BC.

Wellness programs and harm reduction resources

Opioid treatment
1-833-804-8111

BC Mental Health and Substance Use Services

Crisis line
310-6789

KUU-US (Indigenous) 24/7 crisis lines

Toll free: 1-800-588-8717

Youth line: 250-723-2040

Adult and elder line: 250-723-4050

Suicide crisis helpline: Call 9-8-8

Mental health line: Call 3-1-0

Kids Help Phone: 1-800-668-6868

Text: 686868

Available to all First Nations living in BC:

First Nations Health Authority

First Nations Virtual Doctor of the Day

1-855-344-3800

FNHA-approved
treatment centres

Application to FNHA-approved
treatment centres

Available to all Métis living in BC:

Métis Nation BC

Mental health and harm reduction

24/7 crisis line

1-833-Metis-BC (1-833-638-4722)

